short story criticism criticism of the works of short fiction writers volume 46: The Creative Dialectic in Karen Blixen's Essays Marianne T. Stecher, 2014-03-06 This new study addresses the provocative essays of Karen Blixen (Isak Dinesen), an iconic figure in Scandinavia and the Anglo-American world. Celebrated for her literary tales, Karen Blixen's essays offer sagacious reflections on three significant challenges of the twentieth century: feminism, Nazism, and colonialism. Karen Blixen (1885-1962) contributed to topical debates in Denmark, particularly during the 1950s when her distinct voice on Danish radio became familiar to a nation of listeners. Some of her lectures, radio addresses, and newspaper chronicles were later published as essays and now constitute a distinct genre within her work. In this study, Blixen's most important essays are critically examined for the first time. The book demonstrates that a creative dialectic informs these essays, an interplay of complementary opposites that Blixen sees as fundamental to human life and artistic creativity. Whether exploring questions of gender and the status of the feminist movement, or the reign of National Socialism in Hitler's Germany, or colonial race relations under British rule in East Africa, Blixen's observations are insightful, witty, and surprisingly progressive for an author notable for aristocratic sensibilities. Blixen's essays are also framed by a dialectic method, which develops an idea by drawing on opposing viewpoints in order to arrive at an original vantage point.

The Creative Dialectic of Karen Blixen's Essays builds on archival research, historical study, literary criticism and theory, as well as bilingual readings of Blixen's renowned literary work. For the first time in an English translation, Karen Blixen's essay "Blacks and Whites in Africa" (1938), by award-winning translator Tiina Nunnally, appears in this publication.

Looking at Woolf and armchairs, Mansfield and snack food, and Bowen and fashion accessories, it probes the aesthetic resonance between these stories' form and contents and also considers the modes of thinking they might promote. Conceiving of their short fiction as intrinsically radical and experimental even within a wider context of modernist innovation, this book shows how these important women writers brought quotidian objects to riotous life, in such a way that tasked readers with reevaluating their everyday existence. Overall, Modernist Short Fiction and Things argues that short fiction epitomises modernist aesthetics, functioning as a resonant source for investigation and complementing and expanding our understanding of modernist epistemology.
